

Southwest Airlines Spirit September 2003

Suite Spot in The Keys: Sure, you can still get your lobster key rings and deep-sea snow globes nearby. But consider Casa Morada a haven from kitsch on Islamorada, midway down the Florida Keys. Three ex-Ian Schrager hoteliers run the 16-suite spot in minimalist style. From $199, (888) 881-3030, www.casamorada.com.

Private Island? Not quite. But Casa Morada can make you feel like a castaway. Snoodle on your own terrace, loiter between towering palms, or escape from the civilization in garden- and sea-view suites.

© STEVEN JOESTER AND CAROL MARTLING

